

Connecting to Investigations

Investigations is designed to engage students in making sense of mathematical ideas.

By making sense of mathematics, students build on ideas they already have and learn new mathematics.

They learn that they are capable of having mathematical ideas, applying what they know to new situations, and thinking and reasoning about unfamiliar problems.

In Investigations thinking is at the center of instruction.
